FACTS ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

LOCATION

Gainesville is located in north-central Florida, about equi-distant—60 miles—from the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico. It is 72 miles southwest of Jacksonville, 120 miles northwest of Orlando and 150 miles southeast of Tallahassee, capital of Florida.

HISTORICAL STATEMENT

In 1853 the foundation work of the present University of Florida was laid in Ocala when a small private school, East Florida Independent Institute, was opened. Florida Agricultural College was established at Lake City in 1883, and by 1905 six colleges were at least in part state supported. With the passage of the Buckman Act in 1905, the University of Florida was established at Gainesville. There have been five presidents: Dr. Andrew Sledd (1905-09), Dr. Albert A. Murphree (1909-28), Dr. John J. Tigert (1928-47), Dr. J. Hillis Miller (1947-53), and Dr. J. Wayne Reitz (1955-).

RAY GRAVES

Director of Athletics and Head Football Coach
University of Florida

A contagious enthusiasm is one of the remarkable traits of Ray Graves, Head Coach and Director of Athletics at the University of Florida. His first Florida team—that spirited 1960 aggregation which compiled Florida's finest record in history by winning nine and losing two—found it so.

Graves' second group must have found it even more so. Despite heavy losses in the ranks through graduation and academics, and though this undermanned Gator team fell off the winning pace with a 4-5-1 record, it played the same aggressive, determined type of football.

Looking back on his two years at Florida, Coach Graves can remember these accomplishments with pleasure:

A record of 13 victories, 7 losses and 1 tie; "Coach of the Year" in the Southeastern Conference in 1960; District nominee for "Coach of the Year" honors in the nation in 1960; "Man of the Year" in Florida as named by the Orlando Sentinel in 1960; and, Coach of the Gator Bowl champions over Baylor (13-12) that same year.

Graves at the age of 43 is an energetic man-on-the-move, constantly traveling about the State and nation in the "off" season, delivering speeches, meeting alumni, conducting coaching clinics, meeting the press, and making public appearances wherever an audience might be interested in Florida's Football program.

EARLIER DAYS

Graves was a star player (a center) in high school, college and in professional football. He claimed the respect and admiration of his fellow players by being named captain of every team from high school to professional ranks on which he played at least one year.

Graves was a successful assistant coach. He has the unusual record of having seen 13 players who were directly in his charge become All Americans. One of these was at Tennessee and 12 were at Georgia Tech.

His bowl record as player and coach is probably unmatched by anyone in the country over a comparable period of time. As a player at the University of Tennessee in 1939, 1940 and 1941, he took part in the Orange, Sugar and Rose Bowl games. As a coach at Tennessee and Georgia Tech, he helped guide teams that played in the Orange Bowl twice, Sugar Bowl three times, Gator Bowl twice, and the Cotton and Rose Bowls once each. Now add the Gator Bowl as a head coach.

Born in Knoxville, Tenn., on December 31, 1918, Ray Graves was graduated from Knoxville Central high in 1937. After a year at Tennessee Wesleyan Junior College, he entered the University of Tennessee and played basketball and football with the Vols. He was captain of the Vols' 1941 football team.

After receiving his AB degree in 1942, he played with the Philadelphia Eagles professional football team. Following two years of professional ball (the second year of which he was team captain), Graves returned to Tennessee in 1944 for a two-year stay as line coach. He rejoined the Eagles as a coach and scout in 1946 and then was appointed as an assistant coach to Bobby Dodd at Georgia Tech.

From the day he joined the Georgia Tech staff in 1947, Graves' position continued to grow in importance. In two platoon days of collegiate football, he was defensive coach. Dodd early recognized his promising ability in other areas and steadily increased his duties to the point where he was in charge of both the offense and defense of the mighty Yellow Jackets. Bobby Dodd paid him the ultimate compliment available to an assistant by naming him "Assistant Head Coach" in 1957.

THE MAN

He is a man who loves the out-of-doors. Happiest perhaps directing strategy of his team on the football field, he nevertheless finds the fish a genial adversary. He's also quick to accept a challenge to a tennis match.

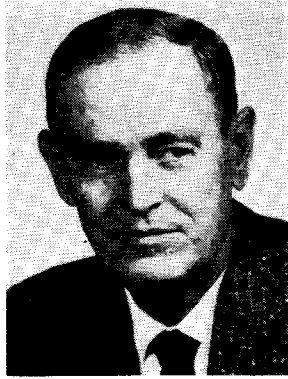

Ray married the former Opal Richardson of Tazewell, Tenn., on November 3, 1942, and they are the parents of three lovely daughters, Rebecca Ann, 18, Katherine Gibbs, 15, and Elizabeth Greer, 12.

Before entering Auburn he had seen only one organized athletic event. Once in college, however, Beard became interested in track and was to excel at Auburn. In his final two years at Auburn, the 6-4, 170 pounder lost only two dual meet races. His specialty was the hurdles and he became one of Auburn's greatest. In 1934 Beard held world records for the 110-meter high hurdles, 120-yard high hurdles, the 70-yard indoor, the 60-yard indoor and the 65-meter indoor high hurdles. He has been track coach at Florida since 1936, during which time his squads have compiled a record that rates with the best in the country. Coach Beard was selected to be one of the coaches of the United States team in the Pan-American Games and is a member of the Olympic Track and Field Committee.

He came to Florida in 1960, and helped guide the Gators to a 9-2 record, including the win over Baylor in the Gator Bowl. Coach Green joined the Florida staff following six years as line coach at Tulane from 1954 through 1959. He began his college playing career by making the Tulane varsity team as a freshman in 1942. He moved to West Point following his first year at Tulane and won All-American honors on the great Army teams of 1944 and 1945. Following his playing career he remained as Assistant to Col. Earl Blaik at the Academy. While in the service he rose to the rank of captain. He is highly regarded in the coaching profession. Coach and Mrs. Green (Jean) have two sons, David, 13, and Dan, 7, and a daughter, Nancy, 12.

A native of Belpre, Ohio, he was graduated from Maryland in 1958 following a highly successful career in basketball and track. In 1955 he won the Eastern AAU Decathlon Championship and finished fifth in the Nationals. Among the numerous honors won by Moore while at Maryland was the top Atlantic Coast Conference Award for excellence in athletics and academics. Following graduation he became assistant basketball coach at Maryland, a position he held until coming to Florida. He was a star quarterback at Georgia Tech during his varsity career, 1951 to 1953. During this time the personable Rodgers led the Yellow Jackets to wins in the Orange Bowl (1952) and Sugar Bowl (1953 and 1954). He was selected the game's Most Valuable Player in the 1954 Sugar Bowl. At Tech, he compiled a record of 60 per cent pass completions in one year, kicked 19 consecutive extra points, and kicked five field goals in one year. In two Sugar Bowl games, Rodgers threw four touchdown passes (three in one game) and kicked two field goals. He also has the distinction of kicking a field goal in every bowl game he participated in as a player. His Air Force Academy team went to the Cotton Bowl. Rodgers spent four years as a pilot in the Air Force during which time he was a player-coach with Hamilton (Calif.) Air Force Base for two years. Hamilton went to service bowls both those years. Coach and Mrs. Rodgers (Judy) have three children, Ricky 8, Terri 7, and Kyle 4.

GENE ELLENSON

After discharge from the Navy, Eibner rejoined the Eagles in 1946. In 1947 he coached all sports at Prestonsburg, Ky., then joined forces with Andy Gustafson as a line coach when Gustafson was named to the Miami head coaching position. Since 1950, Eibner has been an assistant coach at Florida and also holds the title of head scout. He is assistant to Col. Yon in the Gator Boosters office. A native of Tampa, Jimmy Dunn begins his third year as a varsity assistant on Ray Graves' staff. At 140 pounds, Dunn was known as the smallest starting quarterback on a major college team in the nation during his career here at the university. Top performances became standard procedure for Jimmy as a Fighting Gator. Some of those high points were his leading the Gators to a 20 to 0 win over Auburn in 1956 as a sophomore; leading the Gators into the Gator Bowl against Mississippi in 1958, a season when he personally tallied 26 points (high for the team), helping Florida win over well-regarded UCLA; and personally leading the Gators to a hard fought 7-6 win over Georgia with a 76-yard touch-down run. Jimmy became a student assistant coach before assuming full assistant rating in 1960. Coach and Mrs. Dunn (Eleanor) have two daughters, Melanie and Jana Lee.

He has the tremendous task of assigning uniforms and making sure that Gator football players have the best equipment available and keeping the equipment in top-notch condition.

THE 1962 SEASON

THE OUTLOOK

An excellent backfield, a much improved line and more depth at every position.

That's the 1962 Florida football outlook in a nutshell.

The University of Florida will have 30 lettermen on its squad this year. Only six 1961 letter winners have departed, so the team will have plenty of experience. The 1961 freshman team produced some outstanding individuals, and they will prove to be a help, too.

The Florida backfield this year stacks up as one of the finest in the SEC. Three senior quarterbacks—Larry Libertore, Tom Batten and Bobby Dodd—return to run the team in '62.

Halfbacks also are numerous. Among the more highly touted are Dick Skelly, Lindy Infante, Bob Hoover, Hagood Clarke, Ron Stoner and Sam Mack—all veterans. Larry Dupree is an outstanding newcomer.

Fullback is short on experience, but Tom Kelley and Jim O'Donnell were impressive this Spring.

Thus, Florida should be able to gain on any team it faces this season.

Up front, the center post has senior Bruce Culpepper and junior Russ Staples forming a tough one-two punch. Behind them, however, there are no experienced players and a sophomore will have to fill the gap.

Big Frank Lasky is an outstanding tackle, and so are Gerald Odom, Anton Peters, and Fred Pearson. Sophomores Dennis Murphy, Sydney MacLean and Dennis Tschetter are also expected to help out at this position.

From tackle to tackle, the line should be far stronger in 1962 than it was in 1961.

As for the ends, the group looks good again. Russ Brown, All-SEC Sophomore in 1961, is a top candidate for SEC honors at left end. Other veteran left ends are Billy Cash and Tom Gregory.

Sam Holland, Floyd Dean and Ken Werth are right ends with plenty of ability. Holland and Dean are both seniors.

Mr. Dependable on the Gator team, Lindy will serve with Bruce Culpepper as Co-Captain of the '62 Gators . . . One of the most underrated players on the Florida roster, he can do everything well . . . Probably the only player in the SEC who will have played three different positions in three varsity years . . . TECH OUTLOOK

Georgia Tech, which will face its usually tough ten-game schedule, will have another good football team in 1962.

This is the opinion of Head Coach Bobby Dodd, of the Tech coaching staff and of most observers of the Yellow Jackets' fine spring practice sessions. All agree, however, that there are some important factors that will determine the Engineers' final won and lost mark.

Outstanding players are expected to be Guards Dave Watson and Rufus Guthrie, End Ted Davis and Halfback Joe Auer.

With normal breaks, good and bad, the 1962 Georgia Tech football team probably will not be a contender for the SEC title but should be capable of holding its own with any team in the conference, or in the nation, when having a good afternoon.

DUKE OUTLOOK

Prospects: Should be good. Schedule real tough but veteran linemen, although small, return along with both quarterbacks and one halfback. Fullback poses problem. There appear to be no others. Plans are to use "lonesome end" with added attractions to that formation.

Duke's linemen are small in comparison with other college teams in the land and last year they had trouble with the heftier boys of Georgia Tech, Clemson and Michigan, but they ended up the season with a roaring win over the giants of Notre Dame. They are all hard-hitters, full of fight and with Bill Murray's amazingly varied offense should be able to do the job.

In Walt Rappold and Gil Garner, Duke is blessed with two of the great quarterbacks of the nation, either of whom could be the No. 1 man on any team.

Mark Leggett is a great right halfback and late last season Billy Futrell showed the signs expected of him and he should make a great running mate with Leggett. Both are terrific runners.

The big problem is at fullback where all the lettermen are gone and Duke will have to depend on new players at that important post. However, there are some likely looking candidates for the job.

AGGIE OUTLOOK

Hank Foldberg, a former player and assistant coach at Texas A&M, fields his inaugural club as athletic director and head football coach of the Aggies this fall.

The former All-American end at Army is as well known to 'Gator followers as he is to Aggies, for he served a tenure as an assistant coach at Florida under Bob Woodruff before assuming the head coaching position at the University of Wichita in 1960. He went to A&M early this year.

Foldberg inherited a veteran club at Aggieland—one which compiled a 4-5-1 record last season and finished fourth in the Southwest Conference race.

Twenty-eight of the 38 lettermen returned, including the Aggies' top four rushers in 1961. The leading ground-gainers were Fullbacks Lee Roy Caffey and Sam Byer, Halfback Jim Linnstaedter and Fullback Jerry Rogers.

Returning line starters are Pat Latham and Bobby Huntington at ends, Jim Phillips at guard and Jerry Hopkins at center.

VANDY OUTLOOK

Vanderbilt has 19 returning lettermen with 19 lost from the '61 team. Also, a service returnee (Guard Tommy Gaudet) and two transfer students (Tackle Nick Spiak and End Tom Zimmerman). Gaudet was Vandy's top frosh lineman in '59 and has returned after a stint in the Marines. Spiak is the largest player ever to play for Vanderbilt. He's 6-4, 275 pounds Southern California transfer from Richmond, Va. Zimmerman, also from Sou. Cal., is 6-4, 220-pound end. All three will bolster Commodore line where only Captain Jule Crocker (2-yr letterman at guard and now moved to center) is the lone 10-game starter back from '61. Backfield is better off than the line with two lettermen at QB, three at FB and six at HB. Triple-threat QB Hank Lesesne leads this 1962 Commodore team. Hank has gained 1,701 yds rushing and passing the past two years, most for any SEC player returning for play in '62. He led the league in punting in '61 and was second in nation with 41.5 average.

TIGER OUTLOOK

Finding a place-kicker and filling some gaps in the line will occupy the full attention of Louisiana State's new head coach, Charles McClendon, when the Tigers began preparations for the 1962 season.

McClendon also faces a tougher problem—the most difficult schedule LSU has played in years. Without break or breather the Bayou Bengals meet Texas A&M, Rice, Georgia Tech, Miami, Kentucky, Florida, Ole Miss, TCU, Mississippi State and Tulane. Replacing South Carolina (42-0) and North Carolina (30-0), two of the four teams LSU shut out in '61, are Miami and TCU with their dangerous quarterbacks, George Mira and Sonny Gibbs.

Twenty-six Tiger lettermen return, including halfback Jerry Stovall, tackle Don Estes and end Gene Sykes to ease McClendon's problems somewhat. And if three lettermen quarterbacks and five lettermen halfbacks can't handle the situation, LSU's new coach can look to a couple of promising sophomores in quarterback Pat Screen and halfback Danny LeBlanc.

TIGER OUTLOOK

Auburn will field its most inexperienced team in years, but the Tigers have an excellent crop of sophomores on hand. Defense will play a major role in the Tiger plans this year, according to Coach Shug Jordan.

The Tigers have some offensive threats in quarterback Mailon Kent, halfbacks Jimmy Burson, Tucker Frederickson and George Rose, along with fullback Larry Rawson.

BULLDOG OUTLOOK

Johnny Griffith, in his second year as head coach of the Georgia Bulldogs, thinks his team will be considerably stronger in 1962 than his first production which compiled a 3-7-0 record in 1961.

"The main reason we should be stronger," points out Griffith, "is that we have two experienced T-quarterbacks in Larry Rakestraw and Jake Saye." Griffith thinks the Bulldogs will be greatly improved on offense and also better on defense.

MIAMI OUTLOOK

Obstacles of major proportions stand between University of Miami and a 1962 football season being as successful as the 1961 campaign which carried the team into the Liberty Bowl.

While the talented George Mira is expected to be improved over his 1961 brilliance as a passer, Miami must go with a whole new corps of pass receivers.

Lettermen Ben Rizzo and James Simon have moved in to take over the jobs of Bill Miller and Larry Wilson, but hold little experience as receivers—their past work was virtually all defense. Newcomers Bob Werl, Bill Spear and Bill Sparks all displayed potentials as receivers in the spring, but nobody dare forecasts what's ahead for them until it can be seen what they can do under fire.

SEMINOLE OUTLOOK

Florida State's 1962 football squad should be the best in the school's brief gridiron history but the toughest Seminole road schedule ever might be too much for the Tribe eleven.

Playing Kentucky, Miami, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Florida and Auburn on the road is a Herculean task in any football language. Tribe followers are naturally hopeful for an improvement over last year's record.

The Seminoles have twice as many returning lettermen (24) than they lost (12) from last year's squad that posted a 4-5-1 mark.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

The athletic department at the University of Florida numbers among the best in the United States. Almost every type of sports facility is available, and Florida's intercollegiate plant ranks with the finest in the South.

Florida Field, the University's football stadium, was completed in 1951 and seats 44,000 spectators. The stadium is designed so additional seats may be installed in the future.

The combined basketball-physical education gymnasium is one of the largest of its kind in the country, seating 7,000 fans during intercollegiate basketball games. The gymnasium also houses the offices of the College of Physical Education and Health.

The quarter mile track, designed by Track Coach Percy Beard, was completed in 1958. Surfaced with asphalt, the track is considered one of the fastest in the country, far superior over the old cinder types.

The University of Florida's tennis team practices and plays on excellent Tenniflex courts, and the always powerful golf team uses the facilities of the Gainesville Golf and Country Club, soon to become the property of the University of Florida.

The Florida baseball team, SEC champions this year, plays on an excellent, well-kept field surrounded by bleachers that seat 1,500 fans.

FLORIDA FIELD PRESS BOX

The Florida Field Press Box consists of four decks: Starting from the bottom and going to the top (by elevator) they are (1) Photo Darkroom and Western Union, (2) Radio and Photographers, (3) Press and (4) Photo. Here they are in detail:

PRESS DECK: There are 48 seats on the front row and 47 on the back row. Each reporter has 34 inches of desk space and an adjustable, swivel chair that is bolted to the floor. Every seat has perfect vision—there are no uprights between any seat and the field and people walking along the front row are below the vision of folks on the back row. There are no windows on the press deck. A public address system operated exclusively for the press box gives all official information, including statistics on individual plays.

RADIO DECK: There are five ample-sized, acoustically tiled radio booths with glass windows that may be opened or closed, depending upon the desire of each announcer. The front row of each radio booth will seat four people very comfortably and five in a slight pinch. The back row seats three and is adapted for engineering equipment. Each radio booth may receive the press box PA announcements via headphones. There are two other booths, one for visiting coaches and one for the stadium public address system. There are toilet facilities on the radio deck.

PHOTOGRAPHY DECK: This is a large open-front area at the very top of the press box. It has ample table space both in front of the cameraman and behind him. This deck also includes the Florida coaches booth and the stadium manager's booth.

WESTERN UNION and PHOTO DARKROOM DECK: This is the first floor of the press box and the first elevator stop coming up from ground level. The entire Western Union operation is carried out in a large room that provides every needed facility for transmitting copy. Messages are sent by pneumatic chute from the press deck to the Western Union room. This, of course, eliminates the necessity of having bulky and noisy page printers in the actual working press section. (When you have a message ready for sending, you merely hold it over your head, yell "Copy Boy" and one swoops down on it.)

This deck also includes newly added photographic darkrooms for photographers who wish to process film at the stadium and telephoto room from which they may send pictures to the papers. While the places to do this work are a part of the press box, we are unable to furnish such equipment as enlargers, wire-photo sending sets, etc. Portable units must be brought by the cameramen.

FLORIDA HOMECOMING

All year long the people of Florida talk about Homecoming at the University of Florida. Homecoming means two days of continuous activity, highlighted by the double-feature attractions—Friday night's Gator Growl and the Saturday afternoon football game. Both draw capacity crowds of 44,000.

The game this year is with a fellow member of the Southeastern Conference, Vanderbilt, October 20.

Among other outstanding events are a parade of giant proportions, banquets, swim shows, alumni reunions, fraternity and sorority doings, and a Legislative Barbecue.

Back in 1906 the students decided to stage a "Dad's Day." Homecoming was the natural outgrowth of "Dad's Day" and in late years it has become almost traditional for each one to surpass the last one.

Gator Growl, an all-student variety extravaganza that draws a packed house to Florida Field Stadium on the eve of the football game, came into the picture back in 1924. About 7,000 Dads and Grads gathered in the old gymnasium the night before the game to drum up the necessary enthusiasm to help the Gators defeat Drake University the next day, 10 to 0.

From that spontaneous gathering in 1924 has grown what is very likely the largest, most colorful and noisiest pep rally on the college sports scene today. A student committee of Florida Blue Key works a year ahead to set the theme. Fraternities and sororities plan their parts months in advance and spend months preparing interior and exterior house decorations, parade floats and skits for Gator Growl. No admission is charged for Gator Growl or other sidelights.

"GATORS"

(From THE FLORIDA TIMES-UNION (Jacksonville), Thursday, August 19, 1948.)

"MILLER RECALLS CHRISTENING OF UF TEAMS AS 'ALLIGATORS'

"A Jacksonville lawyer 'christened' the University of Florida's football team 41 years ago when he gave a pennant-designing firm in Charlottesville, Va., the suggestion of 'The Alligators.'

"Austin Miller, who has practiced law here since shortly after his graduation from the University of Virginia in 1910, yesterday recalled the circumstances surrounding the choice of a name for Florida University's athletic teams. It happened in the fall of 1907, a year after the University at Gainesville had fielded its first team.

"Miller, a native of Gainesville, was enrolled in the University of Virginia at the time and was visited by his father, Phillip Miller, a Gainesville merchant. The elder Miller, who died nine years ago, then owned and operated a combination drug store and stationery store in Gainesville, a popular rendezvous for university students.

"While in Charlottesville the father decided to order some pennants and banners for the University of Florida from the Michie Company, which was engaged in the manufacture of such items. The Millers went to the firm, where they were shown samples of pennants which featured the Yale bulldog, the Princeton tiger and other school emblems. When the manager asked for Florida's emblem, the Millers realized the new school had none.

"Austin Miller said the name 'Alligators' occurred to him as a suitable emblem, both because the Michie manager said no other school had adopted it and because the alligator was native to this state. 'I had no idea it would stick, or even be popular with the student body,' Miller said. 'We wanted to get the Michie firm started on the pennants as quickly as possible, though, so they would be available in time for the opening of the 1908 school term.'

"The Michie manager complicated the 'christening' when he told young Miller he'd never seen an alligator and didn't believe he could design one. The law student volunteered to find a suitable picture of a 'gator. After much search, he said, he located a picture of one in the library of the University of Virginia.

"The first appearance of the alligator emblem, Miller recalled, was in his father's Gainesville store in 1908. The Michie firm had supplied 'Miller's' with blue banners measuring six by three feet, showing a large orange alligator, and also with several different types of smaller banners and pennants. Some of them showed the alligator lying down, some rampant, while others included only the alligator's head.

"With the first display of the new banners and pennants in Gainesville, the name 'Alligators' to describe the football team 'caught on' Miller recalled and, now contracted to 'Gator.'

FERGIE FERGUSON AWARD

The Forest K. (Fergie) Ferguson Award is given in memory of one of Florida's finest athletes, one of the great all-time ends to wear the uniform of the Fighting Gators. The Award is made annually in the form of a beautiful trophy, which remains in the permanent possession of the University of Florida, and is given to the football player selected as the Gators' most valuable senior each year. The winning player is announced at the annual spring banquet, and he is then invited to return to the campus to receive the award at the following Homecoming.

First to win the award was Malcolm Hammack, outstanding fullback on the 1954 eleven. Others were Center Steve DeLaTorre of the 1955 squad, and Larry Wesley, tackle on the 1956 team, Jim Rountree, 1957 halfback, Jimmy Dunn, 1958 quarterback, Asa Cox, 1959 guard, and Pat Patchen and Vic Miranda, 1960. This year the award goes to Jim Beaver. The presentation will be made at Homecoming, October 20.

Idea for the Award was conceived by John Piombo, teammate and friend of Ferguson, and Dick Stratton, former Florida athlete and admirer of Ferguson. These two Jacksonville residents donated the original Ferguson trophy, which is displayed at all times in the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics trophy case.

About Fergie Ferguson

Fergie came to Florida in the fall of 1938 after having been a star end for the Stuart (Fla.) High School. He became a starting end for the Gators as a sophomore, and from that time wrote several records into the books. He caught 43 passes in the 1939-40-41 seasons, a career record that stands today. His record for the most yards gained on passes caught—668 for 3 seasons—still stands, and a record for the longest TD pass caught, 74 yards against Miami in 1941 remained on the books until 1954. Fergie was also a track and boxing star, and his javelin throw of 203 feet, 6½ inches won him a National AAU championship in 1942.

Fergie became a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army, and was severely wounded in the Normandy landing of 1944. He so distinguished himself that he was awarded the nation's second highest medal for gallantry in action. He died of war wounds ten years after the landing.

GATOR SHORTNOTES

On this year's Gator roster, 49 players come from Florida, while six others are from Georgia . . . Three of the quarterbacks—Larry Libertore, Tom Batten and Tom Shannon—are from Miami . . .

Florida's Bowl record stands at two victories and one defeat. Florida won the Gator Bowl Championship in 1952 and 1960, and lost it in 1958 . . .

Florida believes it has the smallest player in the SEC (138 pound QB Larry Libertore) . . .

The Gators haven't lost to Miami in the Orange Bowl since 1955 when they were edged, 7-6. In Orange Bowl action since, Florida defeated the Hurricanes, 14-0 in 1957, and 18-0 in 1960. Miami gets another chance this year . . .

Russ Brown, Florida's All-SEC End candidate, is one of the few players in the country who has a brother on his coaching staff. Assistant defensive line coach Don Brown is a 1952 graduate of Florida, and recently joined the varsity staff.

FLORIDA'S ROAD HEADQUARTERS

- Sept. 22 Mississippi State in Jackson, Miss. King Edward Hotel.
- Oct. 27 LSU in Baton Rouge. The Gators will stay at the St. Charles Hotel in New Orleans on the night of October 26, and the Capitol House in Baton Rouge, October 27.
- Dec. 1 Miami in Miami. The team will stay on Miami Beach at the Montmartre Hotel.

KIWANIS CHARITY GAME

The fifth annual Kiwanis charity game, pitting the freshmen teams from the University of Florida and the University of Miami will take place in the Orange Bowl on the night of October 26.

Though the Kiwanis have presented charity football games for 27 years, the Florida-Miami series is fairly recent, but most exciting.

Last year 14,182 fans watched the Baby Gators defeat the Hurricanes, 14-8, to even the series at two victories for each school. The game netted $16,030 for Kiwanis Charities.

The current series started in 1958 with Miami winning, 20-8. In 1959 the Baby Gators ripped the 'Canes, 36-6, though Miami came back to win a close game in 1960, 15-14.

GATOR FOOTBALL BOOSTERS, Inc.

Col. Everett M. Yon (U.S.A., Ret.), Director of Public Relations for the Athletic Association, is also director of Gator Football Boosters, Inc., an organization designed to promote University of Florida intercollegiate athletics through the alumni and friends of the University.

The Boosters handle such important duties as distributing films of Gator games, arranging public appearances and supplying ticket information to members of the organization.

Born in Blountstown, Fla., Col. Yon has devoted most of his life to University of Florida athletics. He was a first-string guard on the Gator football teams of 1914 and 1915 and a regular outfielder on the 1915 and 1916 baseball teams. He was captain-elect of the 1917 baseball team, but went into the Army.

In 1923-24, the Colonel was line coach at Florida under Gen. James A. Van Fleet. He served as director of athletics from 1926 through 1929.

Soon after the outbreak of World War II, he was promoted to Colonel and assumed command of the 25th Infantry at Fort Huachuca, Ariz. He accompanied this regiment to Guadalcanal early in 1944 and later saw action on Bougainville.

He commanded the 63rd Infantry of the Sixth Division during the invasion of the Philippine Islands.

Col. and Mrs. Yon are parents of two sons. The elder son, Ev., Jr., is now with the Army in Germany after graduating from West Point in 1957. The younger son, Frank, a 1959 graduate of the University of Florida, is also in the regular Army.

Col. Yon's two personable secretaries in the office are Mrs. Margaret Melton and Mrs. A. M. Henry.

Mrs. Melton has been in the Gator Boosters office since 1959. She is married to Mr. Charlton Melton, and the couple has four daughters—Marilyn, Betty, Virginia and Genie.

Mrs. Henry is the parent of three daughters—Linda, Jane and Ann Merrill. Mrs. Henry has been with the Gator Boosters since 1960.

FLORIDA FOOTBALL NETWORK

The voice of the Fighting Gators, Otis Boggs, once again will bring to the listeners of more than fifty Florida stations the exciting play-by-play description of the Florida Football Gators.

Otis, who was named the State's outstanding sportscaster in 1960 and 1961, has been at the microphone for the Gators for more than fifteen years.

Assisting him this year is Ted Covington, Lakeland insurance man and former radio station owner.

Pierre Bejano, assistant director of the University Station, WRUF, is producer for the ten-game broadcasts which are also fed to the Southeast on the "Pick of Dixie" Network.
